

Belfast Metropolitan College is one of the six Further Education colleges of Northern Ireland. It delivers a range of OCN NI qualifications including employability, languages, local qualifications, ICT and recreation courses. It is the lead organisation in Northern Ireland for the Deloitte qualification.

Operating across a number of sites in Belfast, the Belfast Metropolitan College is keen to work with the OCN in developing new courses through the Qualifications and Credit Framework.

BMet is currently developing a local IT programming qualification for NDAQ/QCF.

This is what Audrey Ward, Curriculum Centre Manager for Deloitte Employability has to say about the Open College Network Northern Ireland:

Why do you use OCN NI?

We use the Open College Network NI because it is linked to the Deloitte employability programme. We also receive excellent support from our OCN representative Dr. Chris Nelson.

What is the benefit of using OCN NI?

The OCN NI provides us with simple to use assessment books and links with Deloitte materials. There is excellent support from the company and the cost of programmes represents good value.

What are the benefits to students?

1. Easy to use assessment booklets
2. Level 2 course that is recognized by DEL and is on NDAC

What qualifications do you use?

NOCN Level 2 Certificate in Employability

How long have you worked with OCN NI?

For this programme - 2008/9
